“Not to Be Served, But to Serve”
David Wu

Mark 10: 35-45

³⁵Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to him. "Teacher," they said, "we want you to do for us whatever we ask."

³⁶"What do you want me to do for you?" he asked.

³⁷They replied, "Let one of us sit at your right and the other at your left in your glory."

³⁸"You don't know what you are asking," Jesus said. "Can you drink the cup I drink or be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with?"

³⁹"We can," they answered. Jesus said to them, "You will drink the cup I drink and be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with, ⁴⁰but to sit at my right or left is not for me to grant. These places belong to those for whom they have been prepared."

⁴¹When the ten heard about this, they became indignant with James and John. ⁴²Jesus called them together and said, "You know that those who are regarded as rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. ⁴³Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant, ⁴⁴and whoever wants to be first must be slave of all. ⁴⁵For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

“Not to Be Served, But to Serve”
David Wu

David Wu is the founding Executive Director of the Pui Tak Center. The Pui Tak Center serves new immigrants in Chicago's Chinatown through ESL classes, children, youth, and music programs. In addition, they offer services to the community by running a computer center, Christian school and a bookstore. In the past, one of the hardest parts of his job was supervising his mom who serves as principal of the Christian school.

David grew up in a Christian family, accepted Christ as a young child and grew through the ministry of the Chinese Christian Union Church (CCUC). After attending Wheaton College and University of North Carolina, he worked in Chicago with hopes of eventually working overseas. Despite being an ABC with limited Chinese ability, God led him to help CCUC start Pui Tak Center. He is married to Jane and has three children. He lives close enough to Pui Tak Center so that he can catch its wireless internet signal in his living room.
